Compiled by Christine Bruske

More than 8.5 million people visit Wilmington District's five lakes each year to enjoy fishing, swimming, picnicking, camping, hiking and water sports. There are more than 100 recreational sites along the lake projects, which also provide flood control, water resources and hydropower to local communities.

Recreational maps for each lake can be obtained by calling 1-910-251-4626.

Controlled burn improves Jordan forest lands

By Dana Lee

Controlled burns clear forest lands for healthier growth.

On Tuesday, April 25th part of Jordan's spillway was burned black, as a fire raged through almost 20 acres of forest...well, not really. The fire didn't rage, and it was actually set on purpose. Headed by For-ester Carol Banaitis a TEAM of Corps Rangers conducted a controlled burn.

A controlled or prescribed burn is a well-thought-out and executed fire set in an area that can benefit from the practice. At Jordan Dam, the fire was set for forest and wildlife management. Fire opens up room and creates nutrients for better quality foliage to regenerate. The new foliage provides excellent food and habitat sources for a diverse group of wildlife. A prescribed burn also rids a stand of trees of unwanted, low-value timber, producing a better quality stand in the long run. Another reason to burn on purpose is to reduce fuel—like brush and organic matter for naturally occurring fires. A good prescribed burn cleans out a stand that, otherwise, could outgrow its usefulness both for wildlife and forestry.

Falls/Jordan staff members Rex Quinn, Dana Lee, and Steve Mason closely guarded the burning twenty acres. Philpott staff members Michael Womack and Daniel Brown joined the TEAM, offering an added margin of safety.

As Carol orchestrated the operation, other TEAM members lit, raked, flapped, and sprayed for almost eight hours until 20 acres were black and smoldering. The TEAM went home tired, dirty, and smelling like smoke, but satisfied that the hard day's work was worthwhile.

Civil Service Retirement System (CSRS) Information Regarding Redeposit

What is Redeposit Service? A redeposit is for the service for which you originally contributed to the retirement fund and later received a refund of those contributions. If the refunded service ended before 10-01-90 and your non-disability annuity commences after 12-01-90, and you do not make a redeposit, your annuity is actuarially reduced. If the refunded service ended on or after 10-01-90, the service counts toward eligibility, but you must pay the redeposit to receive credit for the service in the annuity computation.

Amount of Redeposit is the amount of the refund received plus accrued interest.

Effect of making a redeposit

EXAMPLE: A 55-year-old employee has 30 years of creditable civilian service. The high-3 average salary is $30,000. Work History 1. Hired 08-17-62 with CSRS coverage. Separated 08-16-69, and received a refund of all retirement deductions totaling $7,000. Rehired 03-25-72, with CSRS coverage; worked another 23 years, retiring at age 55. The redeposit due at the time of his or her retirement is $12,000. Result: 1. The employee is eligible for optional retirement and the 7 years of refunded service count for determining retirement eligibility without making the redeposit. 2. If the employee makes the redeposit, his or her annuity is 56.25 percent of the high-3 average salary, which is $16,875 annually or $1,406 monthly. 3. If the employee does not make the redeposit, his or her annuity is still based on all service performed including the refunded period. However, his or her monthly annuity is actuarially reduced as follows:

$12,000 divided by 212.6, present value factor for age 55 yields $56.44 rounded up to

$57.00. $57.00 subtracted from $1,406 yields $1,349 monthly.

EXAMPLE: a 55-year-old employee has 30 years of creditable civilian service. The High-3 average salary is $30,000. Work History 2. Hired 08-1775 with CSRS coverage. Separated 08-16-95, and received a refund of all retirement contributions.

Rehired 12-25-95, with CSRS coverage; worked another 10 years.

Result: 1. The employee is eligible for optional retirement whether or not he or she makes the redeposit. The 20 years of refunded service count for determining retirement eligibility. 2. If the employee makes the redeposit to recredit the refunded service, the annuity is 56.25 percent of the high-3 average salary or $16,875 annually. 3. If the employee does not make the redeposit, the 20 years of refunded service are not used in computing the annual annuity. As a result, the employee's annuity will be based on 10 years of service and provide 16.25 percent of the high-3 average salary or $4,875 annually.

How to find out how much your redeposit amount is and how to make a redeposit

A redeposit cannot be made after final adjudication of a retirement. However, you need not postpone filing an application for retirement because a redeposit is due. Office of Personnel Management (OPM) automatically contacts retirees who owe CSRS redeposits to advise them of the amount of redeposit due and the effect on their annuity of making or not making payment. If a retiree wishes to make payment, he or she may do so at this time. (If you are not close to retirement, but would like to compute an estimate of the redeposit you may access the FR-CALC on the local network. To execute this program go to n:\your

District TEAM member wins national recognition

Anthony Josey, a Co-op in the Wilmington District Public Affairs Office and UNCW graduate student in the Masters of Public Administration Program, won top honors in April. The award? His paper "The Significance of the Art of Quilting in My Family," won first place in the Humanities category at the National Black Graduate School Conference held this year in Lubbock, Texas at Texas Tech University.

Josey said it was the theme for this year's conference "Building the Vision: Black Scholars in the World of Education and Beyond," that inspired the idea for the paper. "As an African-American student, I felt it was important that we understand our past..." he said.

The paper competition was only one highlight of the conference, which also included presentations by such noted speakers as Michael L. Williams, Chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, Dr. Freeman Anthony Josey (right) with Dr. Asante, who established the world's first African American Studies program at Temple University.

A. Hrabowski, President of the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, and Dr. Molefi Kete Asante, of Temple University, who created the first doctoral program in African-American Studies.

Josey received support from UNCW for his trip. He gave special credit to Dr. Michael Wentworth, who encouraged him to conduct a classroom presentation to prepare for the conference.

Customers can use WEB to evaluate District services

By Penny Schmitt

We want to hear from you, our customers!

For several years, the Wilmington District has been mailing customer surveys to our primary customers. We have sent out surveys to organizations like the North Carolina State Ports Authority, Division of Water Quality, Parks and Recreation Authorities, the State Department of Transportation, the U.S. Coast Guard, other Corps organizations, and other major stakeholders.

But our customers also include thousands of recreationists, navigators of recreational and commercial vessels, property owners who live in coastal areas with Corps shore protection projects, property owners who need to consult our Regulatory Offices, and others. All our customers—be they individuals or agencies or corporations-- are important to us!

Now, everyone who uses District services can easily register their opinions and evaluations with us.

The Wilmington District has installed an easy-to-use survey on our Web Page. The survey is listed as a hotlink directly from our District Home Page at www.saw.usace.army.mil. The survey allows you to identify what type of service you have used, and asks a brief series of questions about the quality and responsiveness of our service. It includes a few questions asking customers to rate quality on a scale of 1 to 5. Also, the survey allows you to write in comments identifying what especially pleased or disappointed you about our service.

We hope that many of our customers will choose to complete the survey. "We are looking for a good baseline," said Major Thatcher Shepard, Deputy District Commander. "Our ability to improve service depends on knowing what people want, what we are doing well, and where we could get better."

"Part of being the Nations Premier Public Engineering Organization" is being fully accessible to the public," said District Commander, Col. James W. DeLony. "If we know what you're experiencing, we can take steps to enhance the experience!"

AFGE 406 Celebrates Fifth Anniversary

By June Pauley

Five years ago the Association of Federal Government Employees (AFGE) established local chapter 406 with 33 members. On 7 May, 15 members gathered at Sticky Fingers restaurant to celebrate the fifth anniversary of AFGE Local 406. The 17 members who could not attend were missed on this special occasion.

Local 406 has been successful because of all the members who have been a part of it over the past five years. However, without the hard work and dedication of the officers that held office those first years, forging through the rough period of becoming established, we would not be where we are today. The current officers are working to continue that success and to keep the union viable for the future. The anniversary dinner was held to celebrate that success.

The recreation committee did a super job of putting the dinner together. They gave each member a questionnaire to complete as a fun way to see how much we each know about our union and its activities. The scores ranged from 40 to 90 percent correct. As a tribute to the members a gift certificate for a Cruisers Bronze Wing car wash was given to each paying member. Other prizes given included a large jar of tootsie rolls to the person whose guess came closest to the actual number, a car wash to the only spouse who attended, a gift to the youngest member, and finally gifts were given to our Secretary/Treasurer for her enthusiastic dedication to the union since its inception.

Everyone who attended the anniversary dinner had a great time and came away stuffed with "all you can eat chicken and ribs". A salute to all members of AFGE Local 406 and a hope that you and Local 406 have continued success for many years to come.

NEWS

By Bob Swart

There were fifteen attending this month's luncheon, including Kay and Buddy Johnson, Dan Grimsley, Bettye and Bob Swart, Max Grimes, Joe Lewis, Eric Matzke, Lawrence

Crawley, Virginia Uzzell, Bob Doetsch, David Stillman, Dorothy K. Everette, and Doris and Ken Old.

It was a quiet month for most. Eric Matzke is still into the model trains and attended a train show at York, PA in April. Virginia Uzzell had some company with her sister, husband and daughter visiting her from Tomahawk, WI. Now that the time of financial strain has let up a bit, Joe Lewis indicated that he has been mowing and killing the environment with Round-Up.

Max Grimes missed the Grimes family reunion this year. It makes one wonder as Max was being observed working over a well rounded-off plate of food from the buffet. We are very much aware of how hard relatives work to put forth some mighty fine food at one of these affairs. It must have hurt Max badly to miss an opportunity like that!

Our thoughts and prayers go out to Lawrence Crawley and his family on the loss of his mother. She passed away near the end of April at the age of 101.

All you retirees out there, mark your calendars for the first Thursday of every month as the day to gather at Pier 20 for a very pleasant lunch and sharing time.

Speaking Out

- Eric Edwardson, Chief Ranger of Shoreline Management, along with Sheri Storm, Chief Park Ranger at J.H. Kerr, addressed the South Hill Chamber of Commerce at the group's monthly luncheon.
- Penny Schmitt, Chief of Public Affairs gave a presentation on the District's Mission to the Military Sealift Command Reservists at a meeting at the State Ports Authority.
- Penny Schmitt and Anthony Josey presented exhibits on the Island 13 Cape Fear River Mitigation Site at the Cape Fear Earth Day celebration held at Hugh Mc Crae Park and at the Annual Science Fair held at the New Hanover Museum. The exhibits were made and prepared by Doug Wall and Chuck Wilson.
- Glenn McIntosh gave a presentation to the Topsail Association of Realtor's on "Dredging and Regional Shore Protection Initiatives."
